ADJT. GEN. D. H. HASTINGS,

Gold—Mode of Occurrence and Manufacture.

First mineral mentioned in the Bible, highest in specific gravity, so soft and rectile, as to be cut in slices, most mall, able of all metals, a grain may be drawn out into five hundred feet of wire.

Gold occurs mostly native, yellow color, crystallizes, in the isometive system in vetahedrons and dodecohedrons. Also in grains, shape of shot as in the bank mine, Colorado; in scales, masses and strings of crystals. One nugget found in California weighed 160 pounds. It is usually found in small particles, sometimes so small as to be scarcely visible to the naked eye.

The Red Cloud lode, Colorado, is remarkable in containing gold and silver, some of which are mineralized by tellusium, the only acidic element that will mineralize gold; the mineral here formed is petzite, the color of which is between steel gray and iron black. There are four other minerals formed from this base—sylvanite, Nogyagite, Krennerite and Calaverite.

A contractor of a saw mill discovered particles of gold in the sands of a mill race in Eldorado county, California, spring of 1848. The excitement grew and attracted persons from all parts of the United States, quite a number of veins that were exposed to the surface were opened. Since then the gold field of California extends over five hundred miles in one direction; also in Oregon, Montana, Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, New Mexico and Arizona.

The gold is usually confined to veins of quartz, occasionally with slates and porphory. The country rock may be granite, crystalline, limestone, gneiss or schistoes rocks. The Patterson mine, California, is in hard slate.

After this region had been shattered somewhat by earthquakes, floods of hot water holding carbonic and sulphydrie acids, arose through the rocks, saturating parts of the country, dissolving silica and metallic salts. These were redeposited in the open spaces, forming deep and narrow veins, in some places only a few inches, in others feet, as in the Knox and Boyle mine only 12 to 30 inches wide. The Heslep mine is from 2 to 8 feet. 20 feet is considered a great width. While in the Comstock, Nevada, the vein is proven to be 500 feet wide. So deep that on the 3,000 foot level the temperature of the water is 170,° this will cook food, 3,000 feet below the opening or adit, the different levels, are connected by tunnels, thus forming a net work by which a person can travel for miles, or from one village to another. The walls may have what the miners call a gouge. A horse is a fragment of country rock included in the lode. Thus a mine may have a gouge or no gouge, a horse or no horse. The hanging wall is usually much decomposed the other is the foot wall.

The quartz "mother of gold" may be cellular for quite a distance below the surface, owing to the udecompeiton of some of the minerals accompanying the gold, such as iron, pyrites, silver, copper and lead. Galena is considered a good indication of a rich vein.

When the quartz is thus cellular it is easily mined, becoming harder, lower down, also mined with more difficulty. It may also be richer at these lower levels. The golden chariot ore averages $2.00 per ton at the mill; that taken from the lower levels averages $2 30 per ton. If a ton of ore affords fifteen or twenty dollars, it pays, and is considered a bonanza. The placers of Colorado are in the gulches. Of Oregon in the black sands here platinum iridos mine are associated with the fine gold, coated with a film that protects it some what from the action of mercury that roasting before amalgamating may be necessary.

The little shell of the Nummuialte tells the story of the California placers, whether found among the gravel of the valley at a depth of 1000 feet or at a height of 600 or 700 feet on the Sierra [illegible] found in the river [illegible] Asia and on [illegible] Pliocene period, [illegible]an, was one of [illegible]d by volcanic eruptions, the age following was ushered in by the glacial period. All were powerful agents in the production of placers, in California. Canyons filled with gravel and bowlders from all the known rocks of this region, tell of the rains and the erosive power of water.

Ancient rivers with bed rock and rim rock well defined, filled, nearest the bed rock is the richest deposit, called the blue lead, the color varies from blackish green to indigo blue. It is composed of quartz bowlders, serpentine, slates, sand gravel, and clay. This may be changed into blue cement, yielding only to drill and powder while the clay is easily mined.

Above this is a yellowish or reddish gravel of quartz and bowlders of clay slate, named rotten bowlders. These are the principle gold bearing strata and may be separated by one or two inches of iron cement, brownish color. On top of these is the upper gravel of quartz gravel and sand. On the rim rocks are great bodies of quick sand. In deep deposits is a troublesome element tha water will not dissolve, called pipe clay

Scarcely had mining began in California, when the inventive genius of a Yankee, in 1852, invented a machine, rude and simple, which has been improved and is now the wonderful hydraulic mining with such nozzles as Craigs "Globe Monitor," "Dictator" and "Little Giant" mountains are being washed down into the river bed, and huge rocks are made to fly through the air apparently as light as a feather. A jet of water under hydrostatic pressure is constantly cast against the bank. Thi gives way and is washed into sluice boxes with sufficient grade for undercurrents, drops and grizzlies. When the gravel is so hard as not to yield readily to the jet, blasting by means of an electrical apparatus, is resorted to, using as high as 600 kegs of giant powder at one blast, igniting at twelve or sixteen different places.

The sluices are generally paved with hard flat stones placed edgeways and slanting from their base down the stream. Washing without quicksilver is carried on for a day or two so as to get these interstices filled with clay, sand, and gravel. The "quick" is then scattered from iron sprinkling pots all along the sluices, twice a day or oftener. If they are 5,000 feet in length from 500 to 600 pounds are used for the first charge, the upper part receiving the most. A portion of the finer gravel-wash, black sand, quick-silver and amalgam floats into the undercurrent and permanently settles among the riffles. These also catch rusty gold which the quick-silver cannot touch. The sluices are relieved of a quantity of useless material, such as large pebbles or stones, by the grizzlies, a grate or frame work of parallel iron bars, with interstices, which throws these down an embankment.

A general cleaning up occurs once or twice a year. The amalgam is broken up and washed, a number of times in quick-silver, the gold sinks to the bottom, the baser metals, such as lead, floats on top.

The amalgam is then strained through a canvas filter, washed in water, one third of which is sulphuric acid, bailed and stirred forty minutes over a slow fire, the lead is removed, the amalgam is washed again in clean water and is ready for retorting, in a furnace heated by charcoal. The gold is broken in fine pieces, placed in a crucible, with a flux, after fusion it is molded in the shape of small bricks, on becoming cold is stamped with the name of the mining company and the weight, it is then sent to the mint or assay office.

The ore is raised from the mines by steam propelling the elevators or iron buckets, sliding upon guides, is conveyed to the stump mills in cars, the capacity of which is 1,300 pounds. Crushed in the stump batting to free the fine particles of gold from the quartz. Water flows in to form a slime which passes out through the sieve frame and splash box onto three sets of sluices—boards covered with heavy woolen blankets, the nap on the upper surface catches the gold. The upper blankets are washed every twenty minutes, the lower ones every two hours, in two large tents used alternately. After the gold, iron, sulphunts and quarts sands, settle the water is poured off and the settlings are put in a box in front of the amalgamator. A stream of clean water heated to 100° to 130° Fahrenheit sweep these gradually through two hollow cylindrical troughs filled with quick silver, the freed gold sinks, the tailings passes on through two wooden riffle sluices.

The skimmings from the amalgamator and riffles are slowly ground and amalgamated in a knox pan, water is added amalgamation proceeds, a cupful of equal parts of salammoniac and salt peter with five pounds of mercury are added. After three hours the pulp is very fine a handfull of caustic lime aids in the coagulation of quick silver and gold. After pulp is allowed to settle in a tank it is put with the coarser sulpurets and subjected to a treatment of chlorine The concentrated asseminets and sulphurets are roasted in double and treble terrace drop furnaces. The chlorine roasting is in the finishing furnace. When the sparks can be counted, salt is added to the ores which are metalic oxides, sulphates of metallic earths, and small percentage of sulphides, sulphuric acid is generated which sets the chlorine of the salt free, forming chlorides; after cooling this is removed by lixivation in leaching vats. The gas used in the vats is generated in a lead gasometer from rock salt, binoxide of manganese, oil of vitriol and water. The ore remaining in the gas forty hours is filtered and washed, treated with more salt and sulphuric acid to remove the oxides and basic iron, filtered again, dried in retorts, smelted in sand crucibles using as a flux salt, saltpetre and sand.

The sands from the amalgamator and blankets are subject to a treatment of rubbing and amalgamated on soft copper plates in the Eureka rubber.

The amalgamating apparatus of the mills is cleaned every Saturday. The amalgam washed by hand in a quicksilver bath, the sulphides of iron, lead, and copper floating on top are removed by a cloth.

The amalgam containing gold bullion is retorted four to six hours, the furnace cold when started, after attaining a cherry red heat two hours, it is done. The yellow porous mass is melted with carbonate of soda, borax, salt, saltpeter and sand in an air furnace heated by charcoal. The bars usually containing a little silver, copper, lead, and iron are ready for market.

Cleary Gets a New Trial.

Some of the Supreme Court decisions are as follows:

Commonwealth vs. Cleary, from Clinton county, was reversed and a venir facias de novo awarded.

The Supreme Court emphasize the statement of value of good character in an opinion delivered by Chief Justice Paxton this morning, granting a new trial to Charles Cleary who was convicted of murder in the first degree in the Oyer and Terminer of Clinton county for the killing of a police officer in the town of Renovo, at the close of an evening of hard drinking. There was no doubt that Cleary was the man that killed the officer, and his defence consisted almost wholly of evidence of intoxication at the time and of previous good character. In charging the jury the judge told them that "good character is always of importance, and is evidence to be duly considered by the jury, and may turn the scale where there is a reasonable doubt as to the degree or grade of the crime." The jury found the defendant guilty in the first degree, and the Supreme Court reverses the judgment and orders a new trial on the ground that this instruction gave the jury no right to infer that the evidence of good character might create the reasonable doubt which entitles a prisoner to a safe deliverance.

The news of the action of the Supreme Court was given to young Cleary by A. W. McCormick, Esq., who, immediately after the letters to the prisoner's attorneys had been received, visited the jail for the purpose of informing Cleary of the good news. The prisoner had not arisen from his bed when Mr. McCormick rapped upon the cell door and awakened him from his slumber. He seemed to be completely overcome and at first failed to reply to the words of his visitor as if bewildered by the news. He soon recovered from his confusion and said, "Judge Paxton has my kindest regards.

In commenting on the decision of the Supreme Court the Lock Haven Democrat says:

"This decision draws somewhat of a hair splitting distinction, which may possibly be apparent to the mind of a very astute lawyer, but which to the mind of the ordinary layman is partially non-comprehensible. In other words it is a very thin deliverance and merely constitutes the difference betwixt tweedledum and tweedledee.

CLARKSON SPEAKS HIS MIND.

He Does not Believe in Civil Service Reform Humbug.

CHICAGO, May 14.—'The Government of the United States is a political not a business machine,' said Assistant Postmaster-General Clarkson to-day. 'I know that there is a general belief that the reverse is true, but the belief is incorrect. To my mind, were it true, it would be one of the worst things that could happen to our Government. The genius of our political progress lies in the active interest taken in our Government by the people. That this interest should be kept alive and aroused to an even greater extent than at present is most essential. Essayists who enjoy formulating theories for an ideal government admit that their cherished systems can come only through the political activity of the people. Now, to keep the people active their personal individual interest must be kept aroused. Let them consider that there is not only public, but personal, advantage to be gained and they will work, and for working they will be rewarded.'

'Then you do not think this country would be better off with such civil service as England possesses?'

'Most assuredly I do not. What, perpetuate an officeholding class of which every individual member upon arriving at the age of 60 shall receive a pension? Never! What incentive would there be for such a class to work? I believe that continued service in the Government employ is bad for any man, and after a certain period all the public servants should be sent back to the people to renew themselves. I believe that each office should have a fixed-tenure to preserve the respect of the occupant, and if the occupant desires a second term let him show by his work that he is entitled to it.'

'Would you abolish civil service examinations?'

'No, every man should be examined; but he should be examined bythe official in whose employ he is to be.'

'Do you think that the business of our Government is carried on as satisfactorily as that of England, where official position is not affected by change of administration.'

"Yes, much better. The business of our Government is transacted more accurately and at a lower per centage of loss than any other public or any private business in existence, and why? Because of the fact that there is rotation in office. Because it is patriotism more than money seeking that actuates the men who take an interest in our political life. Why, were this not so, would there be in public office, at a salary of a few tohusand dollars a year, men who in private business would be in receipt of $25,000 and $50,000 a year? Would men stay in Congress for $5000 when five and ten times the sum would be theirs did they but remain at home. It is because they take a pride in their work and in following and developing their ideas they seek public place. During the war men who were worth on an average $1,500 at home went to the front for $12 a month. Why? Because of their public spirit, and the fostering of that public spirit is essential to the preservation of our best interests. Such a civil service as England possesses would not give it."

Speaking of the Tariff bill, Mr. Clarkson said that he believed the McKinley measure, with some alterations. Reductions in the proposed tariff may be made," he said, "but they will be made in the interest of protection, not free trade."

"Do you believe the passage of the bill will keep foreign exhibits from the World's Fair?"

"No; such talk is nonsense. I have read it, but it is cabled from London by Englishmen who hope to create a scare against the bill. That is natural. They want to come in here with their goods, but they can't. Why? I read a statement by a foreign manufacturer to the the effect that if a clause in the McKinley bill passed he would have to close his factory abroad and move it into this country. That is what we want. The more of such movement the better."

Touching the Pan American Congress, Mr. Clarkson said that the result of it could not but be of advantage to this country. "Not at once, but gradually," he continued. "It originated with Jefferson, who dreamed of an immense republic, and Blaine has taken a decided step forward in calling the Congress. I confidently believe that some day this republic will be bounded on all sides by salt water; that it will comprise this entire continent; not in my nor your day, but in the future.

"What of your rumored retirement?"

"I shall resign in thirty or sixty days, so soon as I have disposed af some official business which was placed in my care."

"It is reported that Quay is to be made Chairman of the National Republican Committee."

"That is not so, for Quay is not going to resign."

"Why doesn't he reply to the charges made against him?"

"Probably for the same reason that I should not do so. I have been in politics twenty two years, and never have I replied to a single charge made against me. Take my advice and never reply to a political lie or charge against you. Otherwise you will be in hot water all the time. Politics is a bitter field, and the Democrats naturally feel very bitter toward Quay, because, under his leadership, the Republican party was victorious in 1888."

"Why did he not hold the meeting of the National Committee on Monday?"

"Because of my absence. I shall be back in Washington on Monday and a meeting will then be held."

"And what of 1892?"

"That," said Mr. Clarkson, with a dubious shake of his head, "is too far off to speak of in particular. But I can say that the Republican party will win and much easier than it did in 188."8

"Who, in your opinion, will be the Republican leader?"

"I cant say; it is too far ahead."

"Who is the Democratic leader?"

"I should say judging from Democratic talk, that Cleveland would be. I hope so; he would be the easiest man for the Republicans to beat."

"Easier than Hill?"

"Much easier."

WASHINGTON LEITER.

Representative McKinley has had a hard task to keep the republicans of the House up to the scratch on the various amendments, which have been proposed and voted on, to the tariff bill, and on two occasions verbal amendments which originated from the majority of the Ways and Means committee have narrowly escaped defeat when the vote was taken. As a rule though the republican members, who have any cause for complaint against the bill, have contented themselves with offering amendments to correct the cause of complaint from their constituents, but every amendment so far offered, except those which came from the committee has been defeated. Only two days more of debate remain, and there are all sorts of rumors as to what dissatisfied republicans may do, it is perfectly safe to say that when the vote is taken upon the bill as a whole, next Wednesday, the republicans will support the bill solidly.

The Senate is still discussing the Jones silver bill and there is little probability that a vote will be reached upon it this week. It is believed that it will finally be passed although on the republican side Senator's Teller and Stewart are openly opposing it and Senator Sherman has said that he will vote for it very unwillingly, if at all.

The delegation from the Farmers Alliance which has been working upon Congress in favor of the bill establishing Government store houses which shall receive on deposit agricultural products, issuing certificates therefore which shall be acceptable as currency, is not meeting with success in making converts among the law makers, on the contrary their idea is being vigorously opposed by Congressmen. There is little chance of such a bill getting through this Congress.

The election of Representative Carlisle to be Senator gives general satisfaction here among the members of both parties. There is probably no democrat in the country whom the republican Senators would sooner have as a colleague.

At 1 o'clock Saturday Secretary Blaine's daughter was married to Walter Damrosch of New York. The affair was as quiet as it could be made considering the prominence of the contracting parties. The young couple have gone to Europe where they will remain until the fall. Their future home will be in New York City.

The Committee appointed by the Republican House caucus to examine and report which was the best to adopt, the Lodge, or the Rowell Federal election bill, as reported in favor of the Lodge bill divested of the Australian ballot feature. Opinion still differs widely as to what Congress will do in this matter. A larger majority of the republicans believe that a Federal election law should be enacted at the present session of Congress, but there is a powerful minority of influential republicans, in and out of Congress, headed by no less a personage than James G. Blaine, who believe that the enactment of such a law at this time would be very poor politics, and that the republican party would lose much more elsewhere than it could possibly thereby gain in the South.

The House and Senate having agreed to disagree on the pension question the matter is now being considered by a conference committee of the two houses. There is not a particle of foundation for the reports emanating from democratic sources in this City that the present dead-lock had been intentionally gotten up by the republicans in order to prevent any pension legislation at this session. The present difference of opinion between the House and Senate is an honest one, but the Republicans in both houses are fully determined upon the passage of a pension bill, and it only remains to adjust the details as to how far it shall go and what it shall cover, and this will be done soon.

Secretary Proctor will make an official inspection of the military posts at Willets Point, Sandy Hook, Fort Hamilton and Fort Wadsworth, New York, this week. Senator Plumb will accompany him if he can arrange his Senatorial duties so as to spare the time.

Ex-Civil Service and Indian Commissioner Oberly has become the business manager of a daily democratic pape here. He will find a decided difference between hustling for the printers and paper makers and drawing $5,000 a year from Uncle Sam while the other fellows hustled.

Ex-Senator Plumb of Michigan, United States minister to Spain, has placed his resignation in the hands of Secretary Blaine. He proposes to return to Detroit to live, and says he will not under any circumstances be a candidate for governor.

Many democrats will never forgive Mr. Mills for having stated on the floor of the House that he did not believe the majority of the Ways and Means committee had been improperly approached or influenced while preparing the tariff bill. Such a statement destroys the political ammunition of the two-for-a-cent style of democrats and they hate Mills for having made it.

Whistled for a Wife.

A P AND R ENGINEER'S PECELIAR AND EFFECTIVE MANNER OF MAKING LOVE,

A group of Philadelphia and Reading railroad men were standing near the passenger depot in Reading, and just as the reporter passed one of the men remarked :

"Speaking about whistles, boys, I have a wife who accuses me of having won her by my engine whistle!" "Give it to us," said another, and the reporter waited for the story, which is as follows :

"Four years ago, he began, "yes, a little more than that, too, I was on the run between Pottsville and Philadelphia, and it was while I was on the run that I first made love to the woman I made my wife. I'll never forget the day as long as I remember anything. We had a pretty heavy trail behind us and were going at a lively speed when I noticed, possibly a hundred yards ahead of me, a number of cows on the track. I began to whistle at once. The cows passed over the track safely enough and when I passed the farm house a few seconds later the farmer and two of his daughters, attracted by the unusual amount of whistling, had come out of the house and were standing on the porch. They had seen the cattle come down the embankment into the fields, and when I passed the two girls bowed and the old gentleman waved his hands to thank me, I believe.

"Now boys, don't get rattled," continued the engineer, as some of his listeners began to smile and shake their heads : "I thought of that farmer and his two daughters until I turned in that night. Well, sir, the first thing I thought of when I was called out again was, I wish those cattle were lounging near the track to-day.' We started, Sam and I, and before I knew it we were passing the farm. But no cattle, not a hide nor hair of one. It didn't take me long to make up my mind what to do, so I whistled anyhow for a crossing a half mile ahead. When I passed the house there, sure enough, were the two girls. I bowed to them and turned hurriedly around to see Sam hanging far out of the window. He thought that something must be wrong because I whistled in such an out of the way place. I pointed to the girls and he remembered the circumstances of the day before.

"To make a short story of it, I whistled long and loud every time I got near that place, and every time I met the girls with a smile. One day the one I had taken a fancy to did not appear in answer to my whistle, and I arranged the next day to make a call, for I began to worry about her. I was received very kindly by the old folks and the daughters and before the evening was spent I met my fate. Three months after that visit we were married, and to-day I have the nicest little wife that lives. I won her by my engine whistle, so she says."

A Long Tramp to Get Rid of the Toothache.

'When I hear a man talk about dentistry,' said Mr. Fuller to a Lewiston Journal reporter, 'I am reminded of my experience in Nevada.

'I had the toothache. I had it bad. It ached days and it ached nights, and it worked with me in the mornings. The miners did what they could for me. They tried to dig the tooth out with their jack-knifes and pry it off, and what I suffered under their manipulation no tongue can tell. It was furious

'One day they suggested that I put some acid in it that they used in testing rock, and I tried that, and it eased it for a few hours, when it began again with redoubled fury. If we had had pincers we would have had it out, but I decided it no go, and I had to give in and look forward to tramping to Austin.

'On the morning of my leaving I found a man who was going up with a pair of cattle and a pair of wheels. I went along with him, sick and weak from lack of sleep. It was one hundred and fifty miles to Austin—five days and nights of travel. For five days and nights I suffered. I walked most of the time, rode some of the wheels; slept at night on the earth with a pile of sand scooped up for a pillow; had awful dreams; was exhausted by pain and worn to the bone.

'At last I struck Austin. Despairingly I hunted for a dentist. There was none. Finally I found a doctor who had an old pair of tooth-pincers. He sat me down on a soap-box in a grocery store and he went for me, and, as it seemed to me, after two hours of agony he pulled that took from its socket, and I rose for the first time in many days happy in relief. Since then I have never looked a dentist in the face without thanking God for their dispensation and that I am surrounded by them.'

Fleecy—I made a lucky investment in Reading.

Downy—You don't say! Let's have a glass on it.

A day later.

Fleecy—The market went against me to-day, and I lost a cool ten thousand.

Downy—Well, that's too bad. Come over and drown it in a glass.

NONE BUT 4-PAW.

The Only Big Tented Aggregation to Exhibit Here This Year.

Through an arrangement entered into between the proprietors of the leading circus of the country, the Forepaugh and "Wild West" combined shows, which appear in Bellefonte Glass Works meadows Saturday May 24, will be the only tented exhibition of any importance that will visit this city during the present season. Already the circus-loving portion of the community is on the tip-toe of expectancy over the coming of his big aggregation and it can be set down as a certainty that it will attract tremendous crowds.

Adam Forepaugh, who is the acknowledged head of the circus business in the United States, is said to have outdone all previous efforts this year, both in the novelty of the entertainment and in the expensiveness of features introduced. The "Wild West" department alone represents a direct cash outlay of $150,000, and, although exhibited in conjunction with the largest and grandest circus performance extant, is said to surpass in truthfulness, detail and startling realism all similar reproductions of incidents and warfare of the perilous and romantic West. In its wonderfully interesting pictures of prairie life, and in the spectacular drama, "Custer's Last Rally," which fittingingly rounds up the "Wild West," over two hundred Indians, scouts and cowboys are engaged, and the hero of the Little Big Horn massacre is impersonated by Capt. A. H. Bogardus, the noted scout and dead shot of the plains. Sheridan's Famous Ride and the Mountain Meadow Massacre are great spectacles.

Adam Forepaugh, Jrs., daring and unparalleled 40 horse bareback act, and the feats of his trapeze pony, Eclipse, have created a genuine sensation wherever the show has exhibited. Young Adam also appears with his famous troupe of fighting, dancing and clown elephants, which, during the memorable season of the Forepaugh Show in New York City, became the wonder and talk of the metropolis. There are over one hundred arenic stars, and the hippodrome races are real contests stubbornly fought, and interesting and exciting to a remarkable degree.

The monster street parade, unfolding to public view all the stupendous processional resources of the combined Forepaugh and "Wild West" shows, takes place at 10 a. m. daily.

Wit and Humor.

"I'm going to show Miss Ann Teek a new wrinkle," remarked Fangle to his wife.

"I wouldn't if I were you, dear. She has so many wrinkles now."

First Bill—It seems to me we ought to be acquainted with each other.

Second Bill—Yes, we've been introduced.

Unkeywunki—What shall we do with the surplus, my brothers? The ship is wrecked, and about fifty missionaries have come ashore.

Hokywumbi—Let us start a canning factory forthwith.

Merrill—I'm going to be married next week. It's a big risk to take isn't it?

Scott—Yes, it's a lottery, but after all you're better off than the girl you're going to marry. You have a chance of drawing a prize.

Eastern Kentucky Justice of the Peace—I fine yon $5 for contempt o' Coht sar.

Attendant—On what grounds, Your Honor?

Justice of the Peace—You took the constable out jes a while ago and treated him, an' never said a word to the Coht.

Rosie—There's Mr. Dudeson, Edith. Why does he always carry his cane in his mouth? Does he have to?

Edith—Yes; dear, they make him do it, so that he can't talk so much.

"I told that deaf old Mrs. Peters about Sadie, and what do you think she said?"

"What?"

"Yes. That's what she said."

Willis—Hello, Bingham. So your uncle left you $10,000 did he? What will you do with it?

Bingham (sarcastically)—Going to turn it over to my friends. They all know better than I what should be done with it.

Mrs. Pelmanor (with an idea of owning a Jersey)—Has she any—er—family tree?

Farmer Scarsdale—I dunno as I understand, lady.

Mrs. Pelmanor—Has she a pedigree?

Farmer Scarsdale (relieved)—No, marm. Not an acre or an ail about her.

Stories of Strong Boxes.

Boston Courier.

"There are many amusing incidents connected with our business," said a safe manufacturer one day. "It is to be expected that in the ordinary course of events circumstances will arise when a safe will have to be opened by an expert. Locks, like any other piece of mechanism, are not infallible. The best of them are liable to fail at times through some slight defect in manufacturing, same as the mainspring of the most valuable watch may give out unexpectedly.

"Not long ago a firm wanted a man to fix their safe. It was opened, but they could not shut the door far enough to throw the bolts. The man went to the place and after a brief examination saw a penny resting on one of the bottom flanges. Taking this off the door shut and locked all right. It is forgotten how much it cost the firm to have the man go to their place and pick up that little coin, but it was enough to prevent its being repeated, no doubt. A similar case happened recently. We were sent for at about the close of the business hours to see what was the trouble with one of our safes. The bolts would not throw far enough to turn the lock. The result was the finding of a cloth button from a lady's dress in the lower bolt hole. This removed, all was right. As the victim was a staid bachelor, and supposed to occupy his office alone, he begged that it should be kept quiet.

"Some years ago we had delivered a new set of vault doors for a bank about two hundred miles away. Just before they were ready to occupy their new quarters we had a telegram to send a man at once. The bolts of the outer door would not throw far enough to lock it. One man went, and this is what he found. The bank officers had fitted in a board for the tread of the vestibule, but had omitted to bore holes in it to allow for the throw of the bolts. An anger and ten minutes' labor made everything all right, but made that piece of board a rather extravagant luxury.

"Epicurean like, we have reserved the best for the last. For fear this may reach the eyes of the hero of the incident, I will substitute for his correct address that of Calais, Me. It was not a thousand miles from there. The letter read to come at once and open a safe as there were important documents wanted for immediate use. With his kit of tools, our man took the next train and arrived on the following evening. It proved to be an old-fashioned safe with a large key hole. 'There,' said the man, 'is the safe. The lock has been working harder and harder for weeks, until now I am locked out. I am in a hurry to have it opened. Never mind the damage, if you will only break into it in short order.' Our expert took the key and tried it but it refused to work. He then took a small wire and picked out half a thimble full of dirt and lint from the key, tried it again and a better working lock was never seen. 'How much is your bill?' As this involved a trip to and from Calais, of about six hundred miles, and time and expense, in proportion, he replied $40. Taking a roll of bills from his pocket he said : 'That is satisfactory, on conditions. Does any one in the place know your business here?' The reply was : 'No one.' All right, then; get out by the next train and keep mum, for I would gladly pay $100 rather than have any of my friends know that I was fool enough to go to Boston for a man to pick the dirt out of my key.'" from all the old established conditions on which proprietary medicines are sold, has been made by the world's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo N. Y. who, having for many years observed the thousands of marvelous cures of liver, blood and lung diseases effected by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, now feel warranted in selling this wonderful medicine (as they are doing through druggists) under a positive guarantee that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded. 'Golden Medical Discovery" cures all humors or impurities of the blood, from whatever cause arising, as eruptions, blotches, pimples, old sores and scrofulous affections. It is equally efficacious in bilious disorders, indigestions or dyspepsia and chronic catarrh in the head, bronchial throat and lung affections, accompanied by lingering coughs.

A Departure

NO THREAT, whether implied or direct, by British subjects, or even from official quarters, to abstain from participating in the World's Fair at Chicago, in case the McKinley Tariff bill becomes a law, will be particualarly disturbing to the American public. The effect might be to send ten times as many of our own citizens to the Fair as otherwise would attend. For the present we shall take the liberty to believe that no such foolishness as that which was hinted at in Parliament the other day will be resorted to, to express British displeasure for protection.

Mr. Verdant (on his bridal tour)—What shall we order for breakfast?

Mrs. Verdant—Oh, anything light. Let's see. I'd like some fish cakes. I just love them. I think they are the best part of a cod, don't you?

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co.

☞Sold by druggists, 75c. per bottle.

Edith—Won't you have another cup of tea, Mr. Staylate?

Staylate—No thank you, I think I must be going now."

Edith—Ah, I thought you would go if I said that!

She—There's that Englishman coming; he seems upset about something again,

He (from the ranch)—Very likely; I just told him a funny story, and said I would call again to morrow to hear him laugh over it.

A Sad Condition.

I suffered for five years with the worst form of Blood Poison, during which time I was attended by the best physicians I could find, and tried numbers of proprietary medicines without any beneficial results. I continued to grow worse all this time, until my wholesystem was destroyed by the vile disease; my tongue and throat having great holes caused by it. I then commenced taking Swift's Specific (S S S), and in a few months I was entirely cured, and to this great medicine do I attribute my recovery. This was over two years ago, and I have had no return, or any effects of the disease since, and my skin is today as smooth and clean as anybody's.

Be Not Disheartened.

Be not disheartened by the first reverse that meets you in the path of early manhood, but call on your young energies and enter again the lists in which there is certain success for the persevering. Let not the first loss in business or cross in your purposes dampen your energy, clear up your gloomy brow and let a smile of cheerfulness lure you above their annoyance; renew with fresh vigor and determination your enterprise; devote your whole mind, your undivided attention, with zeal and perseverance to the object in view, and success will crown your efforts. Never say fate is against you. You have tried and have failed. What if you have failed once? Try again, and again; yes, twenty times, until you win success, in despite of all reverses—in despite of all that dullards preach of fate.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The undersigned, having been restored to health by simple means, after suffering for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease "Consumption," is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To those who desire it, he will cheerfully send (free of charge) a copy of the prescription used, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Catarrh, Bronchitis and all throat and lung Maladies. He hopes all sufferers will try his Remedy, as it is invaluable. Those desiring the prescription, which will cost them nothing and may prove a blessing, will please address, REV. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings County, New York.

A Change of Base.—Fond Father—Julia, my dear, you know I refused young Sniggleby's request to marry you last evening.'

'Yes, and it was real cruel.'

'Well, don't cry, dear; I have reconsidered the matter, and will be glad to have you marry him.'

'Oh, how good you are! How did you change your mind?'

'I was at the base ball grounds to see the exhibition game, and the young man who can stop a hot grounder as Sniggleby does has a great future before him.

That Tired Feeling

You cannot always tell what may be its cause. Possibly it may be due to change of season, climate, or life; possibly to overwork or overstudy, to mental suffering, or nervous ailments. But there is no mistaking its effects. You know you feel "almost tired to death," without strength to do anything; ambition seems to be all gone, and in its place indifference to how the world wags—an indescribable languor and weakness. You have no appetite, do not care about food, and only eat because it is the hour for eating, or from force of habit.

This must be stopped. Your condition must be changed at once, or like a ship drifting with the inward tide, you will soon be dashed upon the rocks of incurable disease and death. Rouse the torpid kidneys and liver, tone the digestive organs, create a new appetite, purify and vitalize the impure and sluggish blood, cure the headache, and overcome all the prostrating effects of That Tired Feeling, by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is just what you need, and to delay taking it is unwise.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Makes the Weak Strong

"Since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla that extreme tired feeling has gone, my appetite returned, and it has toned me up generally." CLARA W. PHELPS, Shirley, Mass.

"My wife suffered from sick headache and neuralgia. After taking Hood's Sarsaparilla she was much relieved." W. R. BABB, Wilmington, O.

Every ingredient employed in producing Hood's Sarsaparilla is strictly pure, and is the best of its kind it is possible to buy. All the roots and herbs are carefully selected, personally examined, and only the best retained. All are ground in our own drug-mill, so that from the time of purchase until the medicine is prepared, everything is carefully watched with a view to attaining the best result.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Makes the Weak Strong

"Every spring I take from three to five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, because I know it purifies the blood and thoroughly cleanses the system of all impurities. That tired feeling will never visit the system that has been properly cared for by Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. H. LAWRENCE, Editor Agricultural Epitomist, Indianapolis, Ind.

"It is a pleasure to sell such goods as Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved to be." C. BROWN, Milton, Penn.

"My daughter had an abscess on her neck for five or six years, being all the time under care of physicians, without any perceptible relief. Hood's Sarsaparilla was then recommended to me for her, and it has entirely cured her." S. THOMPSON, Hazelwood, Pittsburgh, Penn.

"I highly recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as the best remedy for sick headache. I have been selling this medicine 6 years and not one bottle proved unsatisfactory." F. J. FRICK, Frick's, Bucks Co., Penn.

Weak Women.

The more sensitive nature of the female sex renders women much more susceptible than men to those numerous ills which spring from lack of harmony in the system. Nervousness, sick headache and other ailments peculiar to women cause great suffering. Hood's Sarsaparilla is admirably adapted for such cases. It gives great nerve, mental, bodily and digestive strength, cures headache, indigestion, and creates an appetite.

"For nine years I was in a state of constant suffering, scarcely able at any time to walk about the house, and part of the time unable to be out of bed. By advice of local physicians I went to Philadelphia for treatment, which gave me relief for a time, but I was soon worse again and gave up hope of ever getting well. The physicians said I had a fibroid tumor. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and its good effect was soon apparent. I began to improve in health, and continued taking the medicine till now I feel perfectly well, and can walk six or seven miles a day without feeling tired. I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine for women and anyone who has bad blood." JENNIE E. SMITH, East Broad Top, Penn.

"I must say Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I ever used. Last spring I had no appetite, and the least work I did fatigued me ever so much. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon I felt as if I could do as much in a day as I had formerly done in a week. My appetite is voracious." MRS. M. V. BAYARD, Atlantic City, N. J.

THE SPIRIT OF THE PRESS.

From the Clinton Democrat.

At the Republican Primary Elections in Clinton county on Saturday nearly all the delegates to the County Convention, which meets in the Court House this afternoon, were instructed to vote for a Hastings delegate to the State Convention. Gen. Hastings was born in this county and it is right and proper that our delegates should support him for Governor. Aside from this the Gen. is an able man and every way qualified to fill the Executive chair at Harrisburg.

The Republican primary election in this county on Saturday, resulted in favor of Gen. Hastings as the choice of Clinton county for Governor. In fact there was no opposition to him and the delegate to the State Convention will go instructed for Hastings for Governor.

Col. B. Frank Eshelman, of Lancaster, in an interview, says: "I believe that all the delegates elected are for Martin for Lieutenant Governor, at least I hope so, and I feel confident that all of them will be for General Hastings for Governor. You can put this down for a fact (and I don't care who knows it), that no delegate from this county, who has any respect for the wishes of the people he represents or for himself, or any hope for a political future, will dare vote against Hastings."

From the Delaware County AMERICAN.

Arrangements are being made for a mass meeting to be held in Chester, the object of which, according to the call, is "to give the uninstructed delegates to the State convention to understand that General Hasting's is the popular choice of Delaware county for Governor." Media will second Chester's motion on this sub ject every time.

From the Philadelphia TIMES.

General Hastings, Lehigh county Republicans' Governor, will deliver the Memorial Day oration in this city. It is the first time that a non-resident of the county has officiated in that capacity here, the orator usually being a member of the local bar or a clergyman. While no political significance attaches to his coming to Lghigh on Decoration Day, his friends will not neglect the opportunity presented by his presence to advance his cause in the fight for the Governorship. While one of the delegates from Lehigh to the State Convention has expressed a preference for Montooth, it is likely that the whole delegation, numbering three, will go for Hastings.

From the Pallipsburg JOURNAL.

General Hastings secures another plum. Clinton county, at the primary elections on Saturday, instructed for Centre county's distinguished citizen for Governor. If this sort o' thing keeps on the General will make the nomination beyond a doubt.

From the Philadelphia RECORD.

General Hastings is not without honor where he hails from. The Clinton county Republicans have given him an unanimous indorsement.

Milesburg Musings.

Rev. T. B. Crass will preach the Memorial sermon to Post 261, G. A. R. on next Sabbath at 11 a. m. in the Baptist church.

Some of our pavements on Pike street are in a deplorable condition. Among the worst are the ones in front of the M. E. church and the property of Gov. Beaver. Now, according to the rulings of our Honorable Judges, the pavements on Pike street belong to the Turnpike Company and it is now not in existence, consequently the people in walking along that thoroughfare are obliged to take the middle of the street in order to be safe. We respectfully ask the Pike Company, if there is one, to repair their walks, or the Honorable Judges to reconsider their rulings.

Extensive preparations are being made for Memorial day by Post 261. Milesburg will have the largest demonstration this year ever held here. W. I. Swoope, Esq., of Bellefonte, has been engaged to deliver the address at 4.30 p. m.

Centre county pomona grange will hold their quarterly meeting in G. A. R. hall on Tuesday, May 27th, at 10 o'clock a. m.

His Wife Suffered from Erysipelas.

Mr. John O. Rogers, of Dana, Illinois, writes as follows under date of March 27, 1890: "My wife was for years an invalid from a blood trouble, and suffered terrible at times from Erysipelas. She tried many remedies advertised as blood purifiers, but received no benefit. A few bottles of Swift's Specific (S S S) cured her of Erysipelas and other blood troubles. From the first her appetite increased, and her general health improved in every way. She considers S S S the best blood purifier and tonic she ever saw, and is willing for any one suffering as she was to be referred to her.

—Recorder J. F. Harter was in Sunbury on Tuesday, ostensibly to look up his interest in a copper mine in North Carolina but, we believe, in reality, to look up his chances for re-election to the Centre county Recordership. Mr. Harter is not the first candidate—although the first Republican—that has been known to go outside his own county to electioneer.

Back Ache

MRS. CHAS. HATHORN, 51 Pearl St., Bangor, has been very low with Kidney Disease; she has been confined to her bed for some time. Had a constant and intense backache with all other symptoms of Kidney Disease. Her husband bought Brown's Sarsaparilla; she was cured by it, and is now in better health than for years. Her friends say Brown's Sarsaparilla saved her life.

JOHN PHILLIPS of Taylorstown, Washington Co., Pa., says: I had suffered dreadfully from Stomach and Liver trouble and was reduced to 117 pounds, when I commenced to use Brown's Sarsaparilla, and now weigh 140 pounds. I consider it the best Medicine I ever used, and had tried a great many, without relief before taking Brown's Sarsaparilla. You may refer to me whenever you please.

The railroad men of the United States are among the most capable, industrious and faithful of her citizens. To them immense interests are intrusted, and without them we should make little or no progress. In their daily toil, there is called good judgment, honesty, fidelity, quickness of thought, hand and eye, and coupled with these, they are required to do an immense amount of labor. There is little or no work connected with the building and maintaining of a railroad that does not bear heavily on the Kidneys. On the track, in laying rails and in grading; in the shops where the marvelous engines, and palatial cars are put together; in the baggage room, at the desk, on the engines, or wherever the railroad man may be, his work opens a path for Kidney trouble. Railroad men therefore, cannot fail to be interested in the statement of a man, who, for 40 years, has been a roadmaster on the big Boston & Maine Railroad, and now having charge of over 800 miles of roadbed. The Handiest Thing in the House.

After a housekeeper fully realizes the worth of turpentine in the household she is never willing to be without a supply of it, says the Home Queen. It gives quick relief to burns; it is an excellent application for corns; it is good for rheumatism and sore throats. Then it is a sure prevention against moths; by just dropping a trifle in the drawers, chests and cupboards, it will render the garments secure from injury during the summer. It will keep ants and bugs from the closets and store-rooms by putting a few drops in the shelves and corners; it is sure destruction to bedbugs, and will effectually drive them away from their haunts if thoroughly applied to all joints of the bedsteads, and injures neither furniture nor clothing. A spoonfull of it added to a pail of warm water is excellent for cleaning paint.

A Bridge Across the Hudson.

The Senate Committee on Commerce on Wednesday ordered a favorable report upon the bill to incorporate an organization to build a bridge over the Hudson river between Jersey City and New York. The plan of the bridge is that submitted by Gustave Lindenthal, which will cost about $40,000,000 to complete. A minority of the committee report against the bill, on the ground that Congress has not the right to charter an organization for that purpose.

What Good Butter Is.

Professor Cooke's idea of good butter is as follows: The scale for judging butter has changed. It has been often said that perfect butter is that which, made and put down to-day, will be just as good next June as it is now; but it is not the statement that has to be given at the present time. To my mind, perfect butter is that which perfectly suits the taste of the person or customer for which it is made and will draw out of his pocket-book the largest amount of cash for it. I do not think we can make utter on any bother basis.

Peterson's Magazine.

Peterson for June is unusually rich with excellent illustrations. "Her Seventh Birthday," "A June Twilight" and "His Mother's Message," are all charming and wtotally unlike in subject and treatment. The opening story "Frank Raymond's Faith," is capitally illustrated. The mammoth fashion-plate, with other illustrations of Summer dresses, and the needlework designs cannot fail to interest the ladies. Miss Ella Higginson's novelet "A Love and a Passion," is full of interest and power and Miss Alice Bowman's "Story of Dogma," is ahead of any of her previous serials, "When Did Uncle Philbroke Die," is as original as it is interesting. "Some Hardy Plants," by Joyce Ray will be welcome and useful to every possessor of a garden, and Miss Scovil's paper on "Asphyxia" is exceedingly useful. The July number begins a new volume, and the list of contents gives promise of great brilliancy. Terms, Two dollars a year. One dollar for six months. Sample dopy, five cents. Temperance Wine For Invalids.

It is well known that there are cases when the most strict advocates of temperance are obliged to use some sort of wine, especially those who are old and infirm. Many weakly females as well as invalids and debilitated persons in warm weather need a little strengthening wine There are many cases where wine would be used to great advantage in place of alcoholic drinks, if only a genuine article could be had, and upon which physicians could rely as being strictly pure. The wine of Alfred Speer, of Passaic, New Jersey and his Unfermented Grape Juice have been analyzed by chemists in nearly every State, and have always been proved strictly pure and beneficial. These wines are now being used in hospitals and by families for medical purposes, also by Churches for Communion service. It is principally sold by druggists. Mr. Speer's mode of preserving is such as to retain the rich flavor and sweetness of the fruit. Transcript.

—A. Walker has just arrived from Indiana county, Pa., where he went to sell his land, but instead of selling he has leased 1,000 acres of mineral lands such as iron ore—8 feet vein; coal 6 feet vein; and fire clay 7 feet vein, and a good quarry of building stone, from 2 to 8 feet thick and 6 feet long, and only located one-half mile from the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and close to the Conemaugh river. Mr. Walker will operate coke, coal and iron, make fire brick, and ship ore and stone. He is going to organize a company and go right into the business full force. Anyone desiring to change business would do well to give him a call.

MANGLED AND CHARRED

Unfortunate Miners Intombed in a Shaft by a Cave In.

TWENTY TAKEN OUT DEAD.

Their Bodies Were Horribly Mangled and Mutilated and in Some Cases Headless—Fourteen Are Rescued Alive. Caused by an Explosion.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 17.—Another mine horror has occurred and again the wail of the widow and the tears of the orphan speak the anguish of those unfortunates as they hover around the scene of the disaster, hoping against hope almost that their loved ones may be yet saved. Thursday morning a cave in occured at the Jersey colliery of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company and was preceded by none of the ordinary warnings. It was at first feared that all the men had been crushed to death; but when it became certain that some of them were alive the anxiety of the rescue parties was to reach them before the foul air had caused their death.

Work slowly progressed until 6 o'clock, when one of the rescuers crawled to the surface, reporting that low knockings and cries were heard from the imprisoned men. The news spread and redoubled the excitement, which had partly given way to despair. Just at twilight the men broke through the debris on the slope, and were confronted by a steep fall. A long rope was passed into the slope and a sturdy miner, Peter Murphy, was lowered into the chamber. Anthony Frane was the first rescued. Before reaching the outside Frane feebly called for a priest, and in the darkness of the slope, surrounded by the flickering of the light miners' lamps, Father Hoban administered the last sacrament.

When darkness set in hundreds of men, women and children were ranged in semicircles around the mouth of the slope. An hour or more after Frane was rescued a shout came from the men in the opening, and the crowd pressed eagerly forward. The limp form of John Allen, fire boss, was borne out. He was badly burned and unconscious. Soon after Robert Roberts was found at the foot of the plane, badly burned.

Brave Rescuers.

The rescuing party were in constant danger of exploding gas. The cave in blocked up the airways and allowed the gas to accumulate. Naked lamps could not be used, and the dim light of the safety lamps, surrounded by a wire screen, was the only means of lighting their way. Heavy bodies of gas frequently drove back the rescuers.

The gangways were covered with debris of mine timbers and cars blown to fragments by the tremendous explosion, which must have occurred after the cave in which shut the men up. Dead carcasses of mules were lying in all directions. The rescuers took their lives in their hands. They knew no fear. They worked till exhausted, and were then carried to the surface and relieved by others.

At midnight a gang of men widened the opening of the slope, and the rescuers were called out, as the danger at that time was too great. Several hours were spent in propping up the roof, and digging through the debris was abandoned. All night crowds lingered around the mouth of the slope, hungry for news. Ambulances stood ready for use, and a dozen or more physicians waited to lend their assistance.

Found Alive.

At 3 o'clock Friday morning a party went in half a mile, but were driven back by the gas. Later another attempt was made, and at 7 o'clock the rescuing party discovered one of the Hungarian brothers named Russ, in an abandoned working. He was still alive and said that he thought the other men were all safe in one of the breasts. This gave rise to a rumor that all the men were safe. Russ died on being brought to the surface.

Another party then went in, and by their efforts fourteen men were taken out of the caved in mine alive. There was great rejoicing among the friends and relatives of the rescued men, who tell thrilling stories of the efforts they made to keep themselves alive.

A Sad Scene.

The brave rescuers kept at work, and then the saddest scene of the calamity occurred. While the grief stricken crowds surged around the mouth of the cave, nineteen unfortunates, mangled and crushed beyond recognition, were taken dead from the mine. The bodies of the victims were horribly mutilated, in some instances heads having been entirely blown off.

When the nineteen dead and charred bodies were being brought out the scene at the mine was heartrending in the extreme. Men, women and children shrieking and groaning fell upon their knees, lifted their hands and eyes towards heaven and prayed for the dead.

Six more are missing and it is probable they are also dead, but the work of recovery is progressing as rapidly as possible. Fire Boss John Allen died of his injuries.

THAT FAMOUS DECISION.

Ex-Governor Robinson Says Selling Liquor in Original Packages Is Legal.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 17.—Ex-Governor George Robinson has been employed by a syndicate of Holyoke unlicensed liquor dealers to look up the constitutionality of the "original package" law, and has delivered an opinion to the effect that under the recent decision of the supreme court the selling of liquor in the original packages is legal, and that convictions by the lower courts under the law will be reversed if taken to the supreme court. The Holyoke dealers will soon make a test case, and there is every prospect of a general commencement there of business under the "original package" decision.

Trying It on in Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 17.—The Ferdinand Heim Brewing company, of this city, through its agent, John Michaels, opened an "original package" depot on one of the main streets of Kansas City, Kan. The nature of the packages was one quart bottles filled with beer. The depot was patronized very freely all day until the police arrested Michaels and placed him in jail. Mr. Heim furnished bond, however, and Michaels was released. It is claimed that Heim is being backed by the brewers of St. Louis and Cincinnati, and that the case will be taken to the United States supreme court.

A Fatal Accident at the McVeytown Station.

A terrible accident occurred at the grade crossing on the line of the Pennsylvania railroad at McVeytown station yesterday. Its victim was G S Ruble of Oliver township, Mifflin county. Mr. Ruble was in the act of driving a four horse team across the tracks with a load of wheat, preparatory to taking the grain to the warehouse on the south side of the tracks, when a fast freight, east bound, came along. Before he could get out of the way the engine struck the wagon and the two horses next to it.

The force was terrific. The two horses were killed outright and the wagon was reduced to fragments. Mr. Ruble was hurled a long distance and received injuries of such a character as to render his recovery impossible and he died shortly afterward. The accident is the first of its kind to occur at the crossing named. Its unfortunate victim was a well to do farmer who owned a farm in the township about three miles from where the accident occurred. He was about 45 years of age, a member of the Dunkard church and a Christian gentleman. His sudden death was a great blow to his wife and children. The accident caused a feeling of melancholy to prevail throughout the community in which he was so well known and esteemed.—Altoona Tribune.

In Other Counties.

Dr. A. Rothrock and wife, of McVeytown, celebrated the fifty-third anniversary of their marriage last Saturday.

It is stated that a camp of the Patriotic Order Sons of America will be instituted at Warriorsmark on the 21st inst.

The march of improvements goes lively on in McVeytown. The editor of the Journal is having a new picket fence put up in front of his residence.

Another child of W. K. Clouser, of Centre township, Perry county, died of diphtheria last Saturday, making five in all within two weeks. The baby alone remains and it was taken into the home of a neighbor at the outbreak of the disease.

A freight brakeman named Lester Yeagle, of Watsontown, was killed at Bald Eagle bridge, on the Philadelphia and Erie railroad, just below Lock Haven yesterday morning. It is supposed that he was standing on top of the car, and not noticing the bridge, came into fatal contact with it. The body was sent to Williamsport on day express, where an undertaker prepared it for burial.

Is Consumption Incurable?

Read the following: Mr. J. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abcess of Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an Incurable Consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made."

Jesse Middlewart, Decator, Ohio, says "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of Lung Troubles. Was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottles free at W. C. Keplinger & Co's drug store.

Lippincott's Magazine for June is a brilliant and eminently readable number. The complete novel is contributed by Mary E. Stickney, and is entitled "Circumstancial Evidence." It is a story of the misunderstandings, jealousies and final reconciliation of a young couple, told in a natural and charming manner. The story is full of good situations and here and there verges upon the tragic, but "all's well that ends well." The character of the impetuous, passionate "Nita," the young wife, is capitally drawn, as is also that of her husband. Altogether it is a bright and entertaining story, and though no moral obtrudes itself, it certainly points one, and a good, strong, healthy one, too.

Consumption Surely Cured.

To THE EDITOR:—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above-named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their Express and P. O. address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. THOSE CHAIN WORKS.

Linn & McCoys New Industry in Operation—May Prove a Real Bonanza.

A DAILY NEWS representative on Thursday afternoon visited the new chain works of Linn & McCoy, at the toll gate on the pike leading from Bellefonte to Milesburg, and found the works already in operation though not to their full capacity.

The works consist of two buildings. One the bending and cutting department in which the roll of wire, of proper thickness is bent into the shape of the link desired and then cut into separate links. In this room for this purpose are two bending machines and one cutter. So far they have been making light chains—mostly trace chains—only. These are made out of one-quarter inch iron.

After the links are cut they are stored in their proper place, bins being arranged for every size and thickness made, and from there are taken into the welding department. The welding department is a large building fixed with twenty-four fires, only thirteen of them are now in operation. These fire places are built of brick and patterned after a puddling furnace. Only a hole is left open for the insertion of the iron in the forge or fire and in this hole are kept from four to five irons at one time so that when one is welded another is heated to the proper temperature for welding.

There are now at work about 20 men in the two buildings, but as soon as more machinery can be put in the rolling and cutting department, all the forges will be put in operation. When this is accomplished, the works will be able to turn out about two tons of small chains per day and if large chains more in proportion to size. Mr. George Walker, of Pittsburg, is Superintendent, and he said there was no known reason why these works should not grow to be one of the largest chain manufactories in the State, as there every advantage here to make them so.

When the chain works was first mentioned in connection with Linn & McCoy's, many people thought it would all end in talk but it has proved different and now, from all appearance, it will prove one of the best paying institutions in this vicinity. We are glad of this and hope the company will find a ready sale for all their chains and that in the near future they can increase their works considerably.

"Tired All the Time."

Say many poor men and women, who seem overworked, or are debilitated by change of season, climate or life. If you could read the hundreds of letters praising Hood's Sarsaparilla which come from people whom it has restored to health, you would be convinced of its merits. As this is impossible, why not try Hood's Sarsaparilla yourself and thus realize its benefit? It will tone and build up your system, give you a good appetite, overcome that tired feeling and make you feel, as one woman expresses it, "like a new creature." j-1

Our Census of Manufacturers.

On the 2d day of June the work of collecting statistics of manufactures for the report of the Eleventh Census will be inaugurated throughout the entire country. The value of this report must depend wholly upon the accuracy and thoroughness with which manufacturers answer the questions propounded.

The personal interests of every manufacturer are involved in the character of the report on Manufactures. It will be quoted for the next ten years as the official announcement of the exact industrial condition of the country, and will be the basis for any future legislation that may be enacted in regard to the wants of our people, whether engaged in agricultural or mechanical pursuits. Therefore it is of vital importance to each manufacturer that an accurate report shall be made. The Superintendent of Census has taken every possible precaution in the preliminary work to make this census complete and satisfactory, and the earnest co-operation of those engaged in productive industry is all that is now necessary to secure valuable results.

Every manufacturer should bear in mind that his answers to the questions relating to his business are held strictly confidential, are not disclosed to any competitor or to other persons and are not used by the government as predicate for the purposes of taxation or license, or in any way to adversely affect his individual business. This assurance is printed on each schedule over the signature of the Superintendent of Census.

The expert Special Agent in charge of this branch of census work, Mr. Frank R. Williams, has personally visited the principal manufacturing centers and consulted representative manufacturers, the publishers of trade journals, and practical business men generally, for the purpose of ascertaining the proper scope of the inquiry for each branch of manufacture. The questions contained in the census schedules are those suggested by the manufacturers and other persons most interested in the progress of the country, and cover ground absolutely essential to the proper presentation of its industrial conditions and resources.

Dr. D. J. Waller, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, was secured to deliver the lecture at the graduating exercises in place of Governor Beaver.

A Peculiar Worm.

Farmers in various parts of the State are complaining that a peculiar worm has made its appearance in their hay fields. The worm resembles the "army worm" in appearance, and its methods of operation are nearly similar. They are about three eighths of an inch in length, very slender, of a light gray color, and are not covered with hair as are caterpillars. They go into the ground at night and when it is cold, but emerge as soon as the sun warms up the ground. Then they crawl to within a quarter of an inch of the top of the blade of grass, twine themselves around it and stay there all day. They attack nothing but timothy grass, so far as the farmers have been able to observe. None have yet been found on the grains or clover. When they get into a field they appear by the millions and cover the whole of it. On an average there are four worms to every five blades of grass, and seldom more than one worm on a stock.

GARMAN'S NEW OPERA HOUSE.

WILL BE ONE OF THE HANDSOMEST AND MOST CONVENIENT PLAY HOUSES IN CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA, HOW IT WILL BE FINISHED THROUGHOUT.

It seems almost too good to be true; and, were it not for the material evidence produced in the erection of the same it might yet be deemed a myth. Bellefonte to have a new opera house! was an old saw for years and yet none materialized; but now the fact is proven beyond the peradventure of a doubt. And, when next fall's show season opens, the people of Bellefonte will have one of the handsomest and most convenient play houses in Central Pennsylvania in which to attend the gay opera, light comedy or dark tragedy.

Adam Forepaugh once said: "Bellefonte is one of the best show towns in the State of Pennsylvania;" and when Adam said a thing he generally knew whereof he spoke. But why could it be otherwise? A town drawing a population of ten thousand, and as well blessed with this world's goods as the majority of the population of Bellefonte are, and as appreciative of the good things and jolly side of life, as the Bellefonter is universally known to be, how then, could this be otherwise than a "good show town."

The interest manifested by everybody in Bellefonte plainly shows how the building of an opera house is appreciated. It now forms about two thirds of the questions asked any member of the Garman family, and the number of daily visitors who constantly flock about the site, watching the walls grow in height, is another evidence of the longing prevalent here. But we will now tell how the opera house will be finished.

A DESCRIPTION OF IT.

As has already been given in this paper, the size of the building is 52x90 feet. The size of the stage will be 30x52 feet—as large as the atage in any city theatre—thus affording ample room to put on any troupe that travels the road. The auditorium will be on the ground floor and a large horseshoe gallery will circle around the rear of the building. The floors, in both gallery and auditorum, will be sloping, thus affording everyone a good view of the stage. The entire building—seating capacity about 1000—will be furnished with the latest designed opera chairs. It will be heated by steam and lighted with both gas and electric light. The building will be entirely fire proof. There will be four ways of entrance or egress. The ascent to the gallery will be from the rear vestibule—a stairway going up on each side.

The auditorum, gallery and vestibule will be frescoed in the highest style of the painter's art. The entrance to the new opera house will be finished in a rich, tasty and first class manner. Busts of Shakespeare, Scullin, Mozart and Beetthoven will lend their charm to the visitor's eye while the ceiling will be decorated with music trophies, ornaments, scrolls, etc. Side walls will be finished in maroon tints and gold. Vestibule entrance will be finished in a neat and tasty manner, while the gallery ceiling will be decorated in panels with neat corner ornaments.

The wood work of the interior will be finished in mahogany and hard oil. The proscenium front in rich decorative colors. All the varous colors and tints used will blend and harmonize perfectly and the effect will be most pleasing—even exhilarating. The orchestra box will be just in front of the stage and about 12 inches lower than the main floor.

will be one of the main features so far as size, convenience and furnishings, are concerned. It will be of an unusually large size and equipment. There will be two drop curtains, one picture and one plush; the curtain line will extend from wall to wall thus affording all in the house a full view of the stage. There will be a full set of scenery. That is, including the various curtains and set pieces the stage can be arranged for 27 different scenes. The main drop curtain will be 24x30 feet. All the curtains will be drop curtains not roll, as in most opera houses. What is meant by drop curtain is one that is hung on weights which renders it easy of handling and the change of scenery almost instantaneous. There will be a large rear door entering on the stage through which the largest kind of scenery may be taken. The dressing rooms—eight in number—will be directly under the stage, and all will be furnished fully and completely. Two stairways will descend to these rooms one from either side of the stage, while there will also be a main entrance from outside.

WHEN IT WILL OPEN.

The opera house is under contract to be completed in August so that it will be opened in September with the commencement of the season. Mr. Al. Garman has already received numerous applications from first-class troupes to open the season, but so far he has engaged no company. We venture the opinion, however, that it will be a good company that gives the first play in the Garman Opera House, and that they will never play to a larger or more appreciative audience than the one that shall witness the first rendition.

In Memory of Mrs. R. C. Leathers.

Mrs. Sarah Jane Leathers, wife of Mr. R. C. Leathers, of Mountain Eagle, Pa., departed this life May 11, 1890, aged 45 years, 2 months and 7 days. The funeral occurred on Tuesday when services were held in Mt. Eagle church. Rev. G. W. Headley preached the funeral sermon, at the request of the deceased, from revelations 20: 12. W. L. Hayden followed in remarks from 1st Thes. 4:13-18, M. S. Blair, of Beech Creek, and G. E. King, of M. E. chruch at Howard, made a few appropriate remarks. The deceased was a member of the church of Christ at Mt. Eagle, having transferred name from the Howard church after the planting of the church at or near her home, by G. W. Headley, one year ago.

Mrs. Leathers was a great sufferer for more than two years. She had been to Philadelphia at one of the beat hospitals in the city and treated for cancer. She was there pronounced incurable and was then brought home, but afterwards was taken to Joliett, Ill., to see Dr. Baercheck, who removed the cancer. She lingered after this for nine months.

Mrs. Leathers was a model wife, a tender mother; loving and kind in her disposition; a sincere Christian, always having a good word for all, and a helper of the needy. She leaves a husband and seven children to mourn their loss; and a place in the church and community that cannot well be filled. May God comfort the afflicted and sorrowing family of friends.

Death of a Juror's Sister.

While Jonathan Gramley, of Loganton, was serving on a jury in court here this week, he received intelligence of the death of his sister, Mrs. Hannah Royer, wife of Jefferson Royer, at Rebersburg, Centre county. He informed the court of the circumstance and asked if there was any way in which he could be excused, but Judge Mayer seems to think that it would not be subserving the ends of justice to permit his absence at that time. So Mr. Gramley remained. Mrs. Royer was a little over 75 years old, and was buried yesterday.—L. H, Democrat.

LEBANON VS. STATE COLLEGE.

ONE OF THE FINEST GAMES PLAYED AT THE COLLEGE THIS SEASON, THE SCORE 4 TO 1 IN FAVOR OF LEBANON.

There were fifty some Bellefonters—and they were a good-looking crowd, with a few exceptions—that joined the excursion over the Bellefonte and Buffalo Run railroad going to State College on Friday afternoon to witness the game of base ball between the home nine and the Lebanon team. It is needless to dwell on the trip up for who cannot imagine a crowd of fifty—purely on pleasure bent—going to see a base ball game. In due time, however, the crowd was landed at Krumrine's and at once set out on foot for the College ball ground, more than a mile distant.

By the time the DAILY NEWS man got on the ground the first half of the first inning had been played and the Lebanon's were at the bat. In the first inning not one run was scored. Owens made a brilliant play, it was a left hand catch of a fly from Cartwright's bat.

The game was hotly contested and finely played and it was in the last half of the fourth inning before any runs were scored then the Lebanon's went out with one run scored to their favor.

In the sixth inning the Lebanon's scored two runs through an error of the College boys—Brew and Atherton running to-gether on a ball and both missing it, thereby.

In the seventh inning the College boys scored one run made by Mattern.

The game closed at the end of one hour and thirty minutes without any further runs being scored, the score standing at the close of the game 4 to 1 in favor of the Lebanon's as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	—

Earned runs, 1; 2 base hits, Mock; 3 base hits, Mattern; double plays, Mock, Aull and Cartwright; bases on balls, 4; struck out by Ellenberger, 5; left on bases, 7; Umpire Holter.

The game abounded in brilliant plays. The chief features were a pretty catch of a fly by Mock in deep short; a clean three base hit by Mattern, two far for centre and Owens' play at 2nd base. The College made six hits for a total of 9 bases.

Ellenberger pitched a great game; allowing the heavy hitting of the inter-State Leaguers he made but three scattering hits. He has a future before him if he chooses to follow playing ball.

All in all the game was as pretty a one as was ever played at the College. there were no hitches or disputes, neither any injuries, to mar the pleasure of the game. When the College team scored their one run they, as well as most the visitors, fairly went wild with delight, while the Lebanon boys stood idly by smiling and calm. There will be another game at the College next Friday.

Census Questions.

If all reports contained in the papers these days regarding the questions that will be asked during the taking of the next census are true, it proves only one of two things. Either that Robert Porter has become an insane enthusiast over his appointment as Superintendent of the census or else he is not the man for the place—because he lacks judgment in knowing what questions can be put to persons with any reasonable expectation of receiving anything near like a correct answer.

For instance: Who will or how many at least, tell the census taker what he is worth; how much he owes and whom too; if he is a cripple, and if so, in what way; are you afflicted with any disease? if so what? and a whole list of such questions that are just as superfluous as they are silly. Simply because there is not one in one hundred persons who will give an answer to either of the above questions. And they can't compel them too. What if there is a fine of $500 for refusing to answer such questions? From how many out of a hundred could such a fine be collected? About 000. And if they should resort to imprisonment, Robert Porter would be obliged to spend as much money building jails to hold those that would refuse, as he would to pay for having the census taken.

The First Snake.

We saw it Thursday afternoon, on the side of the mountain. At first we thought it was a boa constrictor; it looked to be fully 18 inches thick and 60 feet long. We thought it the forerunner of Forepaugh's show. But the longer we looked at it the smaller it grew. Finally we killed it. It measured two feet one and a half inches. Pretty big snake, wasn't it?

To Dig for Oil.

Under the above, heading the Philipsburg Journal, of Tuesday, says:

There is no end apparently to the advantages and resources of this region. It is very evident that there are mines of wealth yet unexplored in this immediate vicinity and with a little of the courage, that characterized our immediate ancestors, or even some of those who are yet among us, but whose courage and energies have slightly waned, there would be the spirit of enterprise that would at once lay hold of every indication of a boom.

Yesterday there were in the town J. Clark, Esq., of Plainfield, N. Y.; L. D. Coller, of Hudson, N. Y., owners of what is known as the New York Land and Coal Co., accompanied by L. T. Munson, Esq., of Bellefonte, and one of the proprietors of the Munson Glass Co., of that place, who has had the management of sale and leasing of the property above referred to which lies in close proximity to the Munson Coal Co's., mines at Coal Stream and consists of about 3,800 acres.

J. Clark is identified with the ownership of several oil wells in the State, and from indications he is led to the belief that on the land near Cold Stream oil or gas may be obtained. This has not been arrived at hastily, but after mature consideration, with some knowledge of the strata from which to look for both oil and gas. He backs his opinion with a willingness to undertake to delve into the bowels of the earth for about 2,200 feet, which will cost about $5,000, and be responsible for at least $2,500 of that amount if the citizens of Philipsburg will provide a similar amount. The usual advantages following the operation, should success be obtained, will be accorded the prospectors. Mr. Clark is no novice in this matter and he would not risk his reputation was he not reasonably assured of good grounds for his surmise.

Mr. L T Munson, at Bellefonte, will be delighted to hear from any one on the subject and it is hoped that the Manufacture's Committee of the Board of Trade will at once look up the matter.

Impertinent Census Questions.

Among the census questions is one that requires from every person a statement of what he owes and to whom he owes it, and there is a fine for every one who refuses to answer. It can be said to-day that all the information the census taker gets as the result of questions of this character will be of little value, fine or no fine. Few persons will be able to recollect what they owe or to whom. "Don't recollect" will be the reply generally. In a vast majority of instances it will be a truthful one. Better not undertake any such impertinence Mr. Porter.

or overeating, or the partaking of too rich and indigestible food, is a common cause of discomfort and suffering. To immediately relieve the stomach and bowels from such overloading, a full dose of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets is the best remedy. They operate gently, yet thoroughly and without griping, nausea, or other unpleasant effects. If the too free indulgence in such intemperate eating has deranged digestion, causing dyspepsia and biliousness, attended with a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in mouth in the morning, on arising, drowsiness after meals, indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity and hypochondria—then you need to follow up the use of the "Pellets" with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, to tone up the stomach, invigorate the liver, and set all the processes of digestion at work. While curing indigestion, it purifies the blood, cleansing the system from all humors and blood-poisons—no matter of what name or nature, or from what cause arising. There is nothing similar to it in composition or approaching it in results. Therefore, don't be duped and induced to take some substitute, said to be "just as good," that the dealer may make a larger profit.

is one that promotes digestion, improves the appetite, cleanses the liver, purifies the blood, and stimulates brain and nerves without injurious reaction, and one that may be taken alike by adult or infant. Profane compounds, made of vile rum or bad whiskey, sweetened and flavored, under the titles of bitters, tonics, &c, produce effects far worse than the disease for which they are taken.

Vinegar Bitters is a pure tonic, a nervine without being narcotic, a purifier without poison, a liver tonic without purging, and above all, a life-giving stimulant without alcohol. The only medicine with such powers in the world.

Borough Legislation.

Council convened on Monday evening with every member present with the exceptions of Mr. Potter. There being no citizens present to give in verbal communications the clerk presented an invitation from Gregg Post to council for the latter body to participate in the memorial services on Decoration Day. Invitation accepted.

Water committee reported pipe on Howard all laid, also the water works repaired and the big spring fixed up—a gravel walk being put entirely around it. Also that the water examiner appointed at the previous meeting had completed his examination and that it was now time to appoint the Board of Assessors to lay the water tax. Accordingly Council voted to reappoint the old board consisting of ex-Sheriff Kline, W. F. Reeder and Isaac Mitchell.

Nuisance committee reported that an examination had been made of the McCafferty property complained of by Mr. Samuel Ryan at previous meeting and it is undoubtedly a nuisance, and that steps are being taken to abate it. Also that examination had been made of sewer running from Allegheny street through Munson's and Sands' property, and it is pronunced a nuisance and steps will be taken towards its abatement.

Street committee reported some work done—in fact a clearing up of all the streets in general. Also handed in a report of an investigation, made by it and the borough engineer, of the condition of the several pavements in places heretofore not visited, which called for repairs on various streets and several new walks. Council voted to give the parties notice to repair and build same by the 15th day of June. Also that the committee had visited Reaver street and suggested that two lights be put up there for the convenience of residents on the East end of that thoroughfare. So ordered.

The market commitee reported nothing being done in its line so far and requested council to set a day when market could be opened. June 1st, was named as the time.

Under the head of new business the council voted instructions to the Finance committee to request Mr. Humes to paint the outside of the Hose House.

Just at this juncture, Mr. Cooney, from East High street, came before council and first requested, then demanded, that the street leading from Bishop to East High be put in better condition. He was informed that what he termed a street was none, but only a passageway, and council had nothing to do with it. Mr. Cooney said he knew it was a street and he wanted the council to put it in good shape and, if they did not do it at once, he would compel them to. The matter was referred to the Street committee for investigation.

Clerk Isaac Mitchell then read to council a proposed ordinance regulating, or rather forbidding, the erection of steps, porches, buildings, etc., on the pavements, said ordinance being handed in by a prominent resident. With very little discussion the ready-made instrument was laid on the table by a unanimous vote of council.

After the passage of the usual quota of bills council adjourned.

Millheim Murmurings.

Last Sunday was a very pleasant day.

Mr. William Glantz & Son, of Tylersville, Clinton county, were in this place last Thursday spending their holiday with friends and acquaintances.

Ex-Judge Samuel Frank, of Rebersburg, was transacting very important business in town last Saturday.

Dr. E M Miller, of this place, has purchased a bran new top buggy from Mr. William Robb of Coburn. It is a daisy, by the way!

Mr. W E Musser and mother, Mrs. S. D Musser, were in Millroy several days last week visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Brumgard, of South Main street, were entertaining the Misses Thomas and Stover, two bright and intelligent young ladies of Rebersburg, the past few days.

Mr. D L Zerby is having his pleasant residence painted. Mr. W F Mauck, of this place, is doing the job.

The Rev. M. L. Deitzler, Lutheran minister in Millheim, preached his farewell sermon on last Sunday evening to a very large and appreciative audience.

Quite a number of insurance policies have been taken by parties in this vicinity since the first of last March.

D. Hoy & Son, proprietors of the creamery in this place, intend to get a butter worker that can be run by steam and which will turn out as high as two thousand pounds of butter a day. The owners are constantly adding new machinery to their plant. This butter worker will cost forty dollars and will save a great deal of hard labor in that line.

Flowers.

We want our kind friends of Bellefonte and vicinity to be generous in their contributions of flowers this year. Memorial day comes May 30th, inst. Appreciating the great sacrifice some of our friends make to remember the soldier dead, by a floral offering, a thought which remains with some one of those mysterer ones for a time, one cannot but think, nay believe, they are well rewarded. Do not forget the dead soldier this time. Flowers will be gratefully recieved at or near the Post Room, Harris block, near High street bridge. Thanks, and many thanks for past favors. Com. on flowers.

Howard Happenings.

William Tipton, who was confined to his room for some time on account of a severe attack of pneumonia, is again able to be out on the street.

Mr. David Leathers and son, Master Ward, of Williamsport, spent Sunday with the parents of the former in this place. Master Ward is quite an attractive young lad of seven summers, and is engaged in lecturing in the interest of Dr. Meeker's valuable medicines, as prepared by Mrs. J. A. Olmstead.

Mrs. T. J. Moore, of this place, died on Sunday night about 12 o'clock, She was aged about 45 years. The funeral took place to day at one o'clock: Mrs. Moore was a sister of the late J. Linn Smith, recently killed on the railroad, and also of A. V. Smith, of Bellefonte.

The citizens of our quiet village were indignantly aroused at the disgraceful conduct of five Bellefonte young men who paraded the streets of Howard, unhinging gates and trying to break down trees, They were somewhat intoxicated, but we want it distinctly understood that they did not get their "stuff" in Howard. We are not accustomed to brigades of that kind. [Wonder who the five young men referred to could have been.—ED.]

An appropriate monument has been erected in Schenck's cemetery by the friends of J. Linn Smith, as a memorial of their love for the departed, whose kind words and generons deeds will be ever cherished by those left behind.

Fatal Accident at Ramey.

A private letter from Ramey, Clearfield county, gives meagre intelligence of a terrible accident which occurred at or near that place yesterday morning, whereby William V. Beyer, whose residence was at Byron Kirk's mill, one and one-half miles west of Ramey, lost his life. How the accident occurred we have not learned, but the rear wheels of the baggage car attached to the passenger train passed over him, killing him instantly. His neck was broken, his chest and abdomen crushed, his right leg and left arm broken and his left hand mashed. The deceased was 28 years of age and was a young man of excellent character, whose sudden and shocking death cast a profound gloom over the community in which he was so well known and so much respected. He was a son of John Beyer, who also resides at Kirk's mill, and he leaves a wife and two small children to mourn the sudden loss of a husband and father's love.—Altoona Tribune.

That Base Ball Game.

On Saturday Williams' painters and paper hangers engaged Cruse's cigar makers in a game of base ball on the diamond at the glass works. The game was played like everlasting on both sides but the painters were too much for the cigar makers and, when the game ended the score stood 17 to 8 in favor of the painters.

We have heard it said that there would be another game next Saturday but we did not hear who by and we are inclined to think it a mistake, as that is show day and nobody will play ball that day.

For a good game of ball let the printers challenge the court house officials and then there would be some playing.

Do Not Steal the Flowers.

Some inhuman persons are now indulging the despicable practice of stealing flowers from the graves in Union cemetery. Quite a number of complaints have lately been made and the authorities have determined to put a stop to it. All persons hereafter in anyway molesting the flowers on any grave over which they have no right, will be arrested and punished. So beware. Several of the parties who have done so in the past are being watched.

—There are some queer human beings in this world. The other day an Italian was taken before a New York justice for having disturbed the contents of an ash barrel and eating bits of food which he found therein: He was in possession of a bank book showing $700 to his credit, and when the justice asked him why he didn't buy food instead of emulating the pigs, his reply was that he was saving his money to buy a title in Italy and become a count.

—On information of John Uzzle Snow Shoe, Pa., Sheriff Cooke on Saturday arrested a young man who had that day come in from Karthaus and who it was claimed, was guilty of a criminal assault on a little girl. The lad, whose home is at Mt. Eagle, protested his innocence, but it availed him not and he was locked up until further information should be obtained.

Notice to Sunday Ball Players.

We are requested, by the proper authorities, to give notice to all boys who have been accustomed to playing ball on Sunday, inside the borough limits, that hereafter it will not be tolerated. All boys or young men caught so doing, or known to have so done, will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. Now boys, take warning, and in the future desist.

HASTINGS CARRIES YORK COUNTY.

Four Delegates Instructed for Centre County's Favorite, How the Candidates now Stand.

A special dispatch from York, Pa., says that at the Republican county convention held in that place Tuesday afternoon the Hastings delegates were elected by a vote of 89 to 33. Resolutions were passed endorsing the Adjutant General and instructing the delegates to do all in their power to secure his nomination.

A Philadelphia dispatch on Tuesday says: "The gentlemen in charge of General Hastings' gubernatorial candidacy in this city say they have private information from every county in the State which has elected delegates to the State Convention, and upon the strength of this information they assert that Delamater and Hastings are now running neck and neck.

Forty-one counties in the State have so far elected just 100 delegates to the State Convention, which will comprise 204 members. The Quay shouters claim everybody not known to be exactly hostile to Senator Delamater. They figure up 74 delegates for Delamater and 14 for Hastings, with the remainder scattered between Stone, Osborne, McCormick, Davies and Montooth. The friends of General Hastings claim 34 notes for their favorite; 29 delegates have been instructed for Delamater and 27 others are under the control of Senator Quay, and, it is believed, will vote for any man whom he may favor. Four of the six Lancaster delegates lean to Hastings, but they are under instructions to cast their votes in any way that will advance the aspirations of E. K. Martin for Lieutenant Governor. These six delegates are not included in any of these calculations. The scattering delegates are divided as follows. Secretary of State Stone, 7; General Osborne, 6; Lieutenant Governor Davies, 3; Congressman McCormick, 2. and Major Montooth, 1.

Senator Delamater will not continue the same ratio of gains with the remaining delegates to be elected. Philadelphia will give 30 votes against him. Allegheny 16, while Chester, Montgomery, Lebanon, Dauphin and other strong Hastings counties have yet to elect delegates. "The indications at present are that the field will control the convention against Delamater," remarked a gentleman to-day who has just returned from the interior of the State. "The Delamater claims are exaggerated, and I would not be surprised to hear Senator Quay give out the order to fight for Delamater delegates in Philadelphia in order to save the Crawford Senator from defeat.

Class of '90, B. H. S.

The Class which will graduate from the Bellefonte High School on Thursday, May 29, will be the largest class which has graduated from that institution since its origin in 1885. The class is composed of 19 members in all, 11 of whom are young ladies and 5 young gentlemen, as follows. Bridgie A. Curry, Boyd A. Musser, Anna J. Stott, Lillie M. Smith, Carrie R. Shirk, Mabel A. Woodring, Myra Holliday, Laura K. Hafer, Millie F. Smith, Geo. M. Potter. Carrie M. Gross, Chas. A. Rowan, Emma L. Yerger, Florence R. Longacre, John M. Morgan and Harry G. DeSylvia.

The class at its first meeting during the present school year effected the following organization viz: B. A. Musser, President; Myra Holliday, Vice President; Anna J. Stott, Treasurer; Bridgie A. Curry, Secretary; Lillie M. Smith, Historian, and Harry DeSylvia, Business Manager, and each has filled their respective positions and discharged their several duties with honor to themselves and credit to their class.

The standing of former graduating classes from the High school have been above the standing of High schools or other places, and the course much higher than the same grade of schools elsewhere; and the standing of this year's class is equal, if not superior, to the standing of any former class and they have not only taken the prescribed course but some members have taken extra work in connection with their regular duties. The standing of '90 can be compared favorably with any former graduating class, both as a class average, in individual work, and in special departments the work of the Class of '90 cannot be excelled. Especial mention may be made of Boyd A Musser's thoroughness as a Mathematician; of Miss Myra Holliday's power in oratary and recitation; of Chas A Rowan's proficiency in the translation of the latin authors, and of the general work of Misses Lillie M Smith and Bridge A Curry.

The class colors are heliotrope and cream and make a very striking combination and at the same time are pleasing to the eye.

The class motto is 'Tacere Non Dicere' and it has been followed very closely by the members of the class and they have been "doing not saying" during this last year in the High School of Bellefonte. The first honor has been awarded to Boyd A. Musser, who will therefore deliver the valedictory, and the second honor to Harry G. DeSylvia who will speak the salutatory at the commencement exercises of the Class of '90 B. H. S.

The Class of '90 will ever be under obligations to the faculty of the school, who have through the four (4) years the Class has spent in the school, labored so earnestly and strived so zealously, to prepare the members for their places in life, and we feel assured that each member will find it very difficult to sunder the ties which bind them together in the closest relationship—that of scholar to teacher. And we know that each member of the Class of '90 will ever hold in his or her memory the theught of the labor of Profs. D. M. Lieb, D. O. Etters, and George W. Johnstonbaugh and that they will respect and revere them to the end of their life as the teacher of their youth.

The Bannack and Crow Indians and other tribes in the northern Rockies are laboring with an extraordinary delusion that Christ has come to earth and is now in the Big Horn Mountains, somewhere between Fort Custer and Fort Washakie, Wyoming Territory. General James S. Brisbin, U. S. A., commanding in Montana, has in the New York Ledger of May 17 an interesting letter concerning the hallucination and giving full and interesting details about it. Mr. Brisbin is well known in Bellefonte.

Who Can Beat This?

We have read a story recently in some of our exchanges about a big egg but it is nowhere alongside of the one here given. A hen—an ordinary common sized one—owned by Robert Gentzel, near here, one day recently, laid an egg that measured 8½ inches in length and 7½ inches in diamater. Now this is the most marvelous, we might say almost miraculous, thing in the hen's egg line we have ever heard, and if anbody can beat it we would like to hear from them.

—For the benefit of the county lad and lassie we will say that this year, or next Saturday, when Forepaugh will be in this place and you will come to Bellefonte to see the circus; we say, young man, treat your best girl to lemonade before you take your seat inside the circus tent as there will be no colored lemonade sold on the seats.

The Blondin Horse

Adam Forepaugh, Jr., has succeeded in doing what no animal trainer ever before accomplished—the training of a horse to walk a high rope, suspended thirty feet in the air. Blondin, the intrepid little pony that performs this remarkable feat, is one of the most intelligent animals in the world. He seems to enter heartily into the zest of the exhibition, and when, occasionally, he misses his foothold upon the narrow rope and falls into the net spread out to catch him, he exhibits all the chagrin of an expert circus performer who has temporarily failed in his act, and springing out of the net runs up the incline leading to the rope and once more essays the difficult feat. His success and the applause that follows is understood and appreciated by the brave pony, and he walks off bowing and as proud as a Lucifer. It took six months of constant work to train Blondin, and the task was accomplished by first teaching him to walk a cable on the ground and then gradually elevating it. Blondin is but one of the many great features of the Forepaugh and Wild West Combined Shows, which exhibit in Glass Works Meadows Bellefonte Saturday May 24;

—During Saturday's heavy wind McClellan's circus tent was blown down while the afternoon exhibition was going on at Lock Haven. It caused a little panic but, fortunately, none but one showman was injured and he not seriously. The tent was put up again for the evening exhibition.

—It gives us pleasure to record the following item from the Dayton, O., Evening News: "It is now Adjutant C G McMillen, of the Thirteenth Regiment, O. N. G. With Major in the Uniform Rank, K. of P., this makes two titles, not counting that of landlord or mine host McMillen."
